

Attention to Detail

TO CREATE A HOME AWAY FROM HOME in his backyard, this homeowner in Loma Linda, California, desired an ambiance which projected Greco Roman structure nestled in a French provincial environment. A lap pool provides a place for exercise, while the diving pool is perfect for pure relaxation.

L.A. Custom Pools and Spas did not face any challenges during the construction itself—they had an extreme commitment to satisfy the homeowners' desires. From concept to construction, the detailed plans took exactly 24 months to complete, and the homeowner was very involved in the design throughout the entire process. Tropical Breeze Pebble Tec and pre-cast columns are just a few of the design details that the homeowner and design team contemplated before construction began. Choosing the finish materials was also a meticulous decision process, and every detail was considered prior to selection.

The homeowner, a classical French composer, wanted to be "immersed in sound." The design team incorporated underwater speakers and laminar water jets to provide an underwater experience that is hard to replicate.
